Curriculum Vitae

Profile

Christopher S. Yoo (A.B. Harvard 1986; M.B.A. Anderson School at UCLA 1991; J.D. Northwestern University 1995) has emerged as one of the nation's leading authorities on law and technology. His research focuses on how technological innovation and cutting-edge theories of economics are transforming the regulation of telecommunications and electronic media. His work on media ownership has garnered both national and international recognition. He is also pursuing research on the economics of copyright as well as a historical project on presidential control over the administration of the law. Prior to joining the faculty in 1999, Professor Yoo clerked for Justice Anthony M. Kennedy of the Supreme Court of the United States and Judge A. Raymond Randolph of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit and practiced with the law firm of Hogan & Hartson in Washington, D.C.
